OPERA HOUSE WRECKED

And Iron Pier Was Topped into Sea
When Stone-laden Barge Smashed
Into It When Driven by the Gale.

Cape May, N. J., May 21.—A property loss of $25,000 was sustained today when the barge Robert Campbell crashed into the big iron pier here utterly demolishing it and the opera house which was located on the end of the pier. The barge was laden with stone which was being brought here for new harbor work. A high wind drove the barge with great force against the pier and as the vessel crashed into the obstruction it toppled the theatre building into the sea, as well as smashing the remainder of the iron structure. The pier was a big, heavy structure but it bent like a reed under the force of the gale-driven barge.

SHOT HIMSELF IN THE HEAD.

Unexplained Suicide of Frank Swain, a Candia Carpenter.

Candia, N. H., May 21.—Frank Swain, a carpenter by trade and a respected citizen, committed suicide here last night at 5:30 o'clock by shooting. The weapon used was a 12-caliber revolver, the ball from which entered at the right temple and passed completely through the head, lodging under the scalp. Mr. Swain had apparently been in his usual health and spirits during the day, and after eating a hearty supper, remarked to his sister, Mrs. Minnie Godfrey, who was his housekeeper, that he would go upstairs and lie down awhile. Shortly afterwards his sister, who was drawing water from the well in the yard heard a shot and, rushing upstairs, found him sitting on the floor with his back against the bed, and unconscious. He died in a few moments without regaining consciousness. No motive can be assigned for the act unless it be worry over the loss of his mother, which occurred a year ago. Mr. Swain had complained of being unable to sleep. He lived in what was once the old Concord and Portsmouth depot. He is survived by a sister and several cousins. His age was 43 years.

KEPT OUT OF WESTMINSTER.

Dean Refuses to Let Ashes of George
Meredith Rest Here.

London, May 21.—The Westminster authorities have declined permission to place the ashes of George Meredith in the Abbey. An appeal to the dean to this end was strongly supported by the Society of Authors, representing all the leading writers, by Premier Asquith, Lord Morley, Rudyard Kipling and James M. Barrie. Mr. Barrie made a personal appeal to the dean, but in vain. It was announced officially last night by the dean that a memorial service will be held in the Abbey on Saturday. The funeral, therefore, will be at Dorking, as previously arranged. The action of the Westminster authorities has caused much disappointment, for it is known that the family of the late poet had no objection to his ashes being placed in the Abbey, and the question of space was not involved by the depositing of the urn therein. The Times understands that, on mature consideration and because of the exceptional conditions of the case, Premier Asquith has expressed the hope that the dean of Westminster may consent to allow the ashes of George Meredith to be buried in the Abbey.

"Mephisto and the Maiden," at the Comique theatre. For the benefit of those who have never seen the night Faust we will give here some idea of the picture produced by the motion picture artists. Friar Hugo one day chanced to cast his eyes through the narrow window of his gloomy cell and was startled by the apparition of a maiden so passing fair that his eyes were blinded by her voluptuous beauty. "Oh, for an hour of sweet youth!" he cried. "Oh, for me more feeling moment of the world and life of the world of song and joyous mirth. Now Mephisto, the spirit of evil, who for so long had endeavored to crush the soul of this goodly man and drag it to the realms of eternal damnation, finds the opportunity to achieve his end. Appearing before the friar he offered him two hours of youth and love. Signing the fatal bond of slavery to dwell in the domains of darkness and despair forever, Friar Hugo turns to his tempter and with trembling eagerness awaits the dissolution of his withered frame and the resurrection of his youthful body. With a fendish laugh, Mephisto plunges his burning sword into the breast of the hermit, waving his magic blade over the prostrate form, he commands to change into a youth of buoyancy, and a handsome youth cavalier springs to his feet. It is Hugo, no longer a tottering old man, but a young man more. Now it chanced the Paul who had been removed by magic power from his sweetheart's presence awakes to find himself deserted by his heart's idol. He comes upon his fair one and Hugo as they step from a gondola. Choking with rage, Paolo challenges Hugo to cross swords with him. A fight ensues and Hugo is sorely pained. Mephisto appears and unseen so parries the thrust that Hugo buries his weapon in the breast of the brave youth. After the friar has been claimed by Satan he appears as a guardian angel before the maiden and her wounded lover, restoring them to each other. See this good picture, also two good biograph pictures, all for 5 cents to-day and to-morrow.

FOUND FATHER DYING.

Son Summoned to Hotel Where He Had Committed Suicide.

New York, May 21.—"Come at once to the Grand Union hotel, I'm up here and must see you on urgent business." This was the message Charles E. Sexton, an insurance broker gave to his son over the telephone late yesterday. Carlington Sexton, the son, an architect hurried to the hotel and entering a room his father had engaged, found him unconscious and dying as the result of wounds from six bullets which he had sent crashing through his open mouth. Death ensued a few hours later.

SHRUBB DEFEATED ST. IVES.
Led Him 690 Yards at End of a 20-Mile Race.

M. A. A. Grounds, Montreal, Que., May 21.—Alfred Shrubbs, the English middle distance champion, proved his ability to go a distance further than 15 miles in winning style, by defeating Henri St. Ives, the Marathon champion from France, in their 20-mile race on the Montreal A. A. grounds last evening. Shrubbs won by a lap and a quarter about 690 yards, in the fast time of one hour 54 minutes and 25 seconds. St. Ives finished out the race in 1:06:24.

It was a big surprise, St. Ives being practically a 2 to 1 favorite, reports that Shrubbs's right leg had gone back on him since the Longboat race, leading most of the experts to believe he would fade away after the 15th mile. Shrubbs went out into the lead after the first 20 yards and setting a fast pace, opened a big lead in the early stages of the race.

Preferring a grass course to the third of a mile cinder path, the runners ran on a track just laid inside the cinder path, measuring 3 1/5 laps to the mile.

Just before the seventh mile was finished by Shrubbs he had gained a lap lead on the Frenchman. This lead he increased to a lap and a half at the end of the twelfth mile and added 40 yards more in the next couple of miles. In the thirteenth St. Ives began to quicken his pace and from there to the finish made small gains but Shrubbs held on tenaciously and lost only one fourth of a lap and a half gained at the twelfth mile. Shrubbs was limping badly at the finish, but came home with a strong sprint.

St. Ives ran his usual race, with short choppy stride, but had not the speed to go after the Englishman. Five thousand people saw the race.

A WHITEWASH AFFAIR.

Will Be The Report of The Commission on Recent Massacres.

Constantinople, May 21.—Messages from the commission sent to Asia Minor to investigate the recent massacres indicate that not only will the report whitewash the affair but that the blame for killing 40,000 Christians will be charged to the Armenian population. The report will admit that serious condition is existing due to wanton destruction of property, with the provinces facing starvation, but it will attach blame to the Armenian society which it was discovered was organized to throw off its rule of Turkey.

The report further says that the wounding of the British vice-consul Daugherty-Wyke was done by maddened Armenians. The investigators are also now seeking to lay the blame of the deaths of Rogers and Maurier, two American missionaries to the same fanatics. Sultan Mehmed's declaration yesterday that the massacres must stop is thought to be sincere, but his authority is practically negative.

Mrs. Slack said that her husband said "come out into the yard, I'm going to shoot you and we'll die together."

The woman ran but Slack followed and fired twice, one shot striking her in the back of the head, and the other in the arm. She fell unconscious and Slack, going to a woodshed fired a bullet through his head.

CRAZY ACT
OF A MOTHERSlashed Throats of Her Three Children

AND THEN HER OWN NECK

Two of the Children Are Dead and Mrs.
Lewis Carlin Herself and the
Other Child in Critical Condition.

Middletown, Conn., May 21.—Four lives may be the penalty of an insane mother's act some time during last night, as discovered today. Mrs. Lewis Carlin at an early hour of the morning cut the throats of three of her children. A ten-year-old son and a baby ten months old are dead as the result of their mother's maniacal fury, and another son, John, is said to be wounded so badly that he may not live.

After cutting the throats of her three children the woman then hacked away at her own throat with a knife, inflicting wounds which caused her death this morning. It is believed that Mrs. Carlin was suffering from temporary insanity.
